2 issues with duplicate title tags

2

About this issue:

0

Our crawler reports pages that have duplicate title tags only if they are exact matches.

Duplicate <title> tags make it difficult for search engines to determine which of a website's pages is relevant for a specific search query, and which one should be prioritized in search results. Pages with duplicate titles have a lower chance of ranking well and are at risk of being banned.

Moreover, identical <title> tags confuse users as to which webpage they should follow.

How to fix:

Provide a unique and concise title for each of your pages that contains your most important keywords.

For information on how to create effective titles, please see this Google article.

2 pages have duplicate content issues About this issue: Webpages are considered duplicates if their content is 85% identical. Having duplicate content may significantly affect your SEO performance. First of all, Google will typically show only one duplicate page, filtering other instances out of its index and search results, and this page may not be the one you want to rank. In some cases, search engines may consider duplicate pages as an attempt to manipulate search engine rankings and, as a result, your website may be downgraded or even banned from search results. Moreover, duplicate pages may dilute your link profile. How to fix: Here are a few ways to fix duplicate content issues: - Add a rel="canonical" link to one of your duplicate pages to inform search engines which page to show in search results - Use a 301 redirect from a duplicate page to the original one - Use a rel="next" and a rel="prev" link attribute to fix pagination duplicates - Instruct GoogleBot to handle URL parameters differently using Google Search Console - Provide some unique content on the webpage For more information, please read these articles: "Duplicate content" and "Consolidate duplicate URLs"	2 0
2 pages have duplicate meta descriptions About this issue: Our crawler reports pages that have duplicate meta descriptions only if they are exact matches. A <meta description> tag is a short summary of a webpage's content that helps search engines understand what the page is about and can be shown to users in search results. Duplicate meta descriptions on different pages mean a lost opportunity to use more relevant keywords. Also, duplicate meta descriptions make it difficult for search engines and users to differentiate between different webpages. It is better to have no meta description at all than to have a duplicate one. How to fix: Provide a unique, relevant meta description for each of your webpages. If the domain or subdomain name to which your SSL certificate is registered doesn't match the name displayed in the address bar, web browsers will block users from visiting your website by showing them a name mismatch error, and this will in turn negatively affect your organic search traffic.
How to fix:
Contact your website administrator and ask them to install the correct certificate. Since subdomains also require their own certificates, you can use a wildcard or multi-domain SSL certificate that allows you to secure multiple subdomains.

49 pages have low text-HTML ratio

49

About this issue:

0

Your text to HTML ratio indicates the amount of actual text you have on your webpage compared to the amount of code. This issue is triggered when your text to HTML is 10% or less.

Search engines have begun focusing on pages that contain more content. That's why a higher text to HTML ratio means your page has a better chance of getting a good position in search results.

Less code increases your page's load speed and also helps your rankings. It also helps search engine robots crawl your website faster.

How to fix:

Split your webpage's text content and code into separate files and compare their size. If the size of your code file exceeds the size of the text file, review your page's HTML code and consider optimizing its structure and removing embedded scripts and styles.

32 pages have too much text within the title tags

32

About this issue:

0

Most search engines truncate titles containing more than 70 characters. Incomplete and shortened titles look unappealing to users and won't entice them to click on your page.

For more information, please see this Google article

How to fix:

Try to rewrite your page titles to be 70 characters or less.

2 pages have a low word count

2

About this issue:

0

This issue is triggered if the number of words on your webpage is less than 200.

The amount of text placed on your webpage is a quality signal to search engines.

Search engines prefer to provide as much information to users as possible, so pages with longer content tend to be placed higher in search results, as opposed to those with lower word counts.

For more information, please view this video

How to fix:

Improve your on-page content and be sure to include more than 200 meaningful words.

1 external link is broken About this issue: Broken external links lead users from one website to another and bring them to non-existent webpages. Multiple broken links negatively affect user experience and may worsen your search engine rankings because crawlers may think that your website is poorly maintained or coded. Please note that our crawler may detect a working link as broken. Generally, this happens if the server hosting the website you're referring to blocks our crawler from accessing this website. How to fix: Please follow all links reported as broken. If a target webpage returns an error, remove the link leading to the error page or replace it with another resource. If the links reported as broken do work when accessed with a browser, you should contact the website's owner and inform them about the issue.	1 0
1 subdomain doesn't support SNI About this issue: One of the common issues you may face when using HTTPS is when your web server doesn't support Server Name Indication (SNI). Using SNI allows you to support multiple servers and host multiple certificates at the same IP address, which may improve security and trust. How to fix: Make sure that you web server supports SNI. Keep in mind that SNI is not supported by some older browsers, which is why you need to ensure that your audience uses browsers supporting SNI.	1 0

1 link on this page have no anchor text About this issue: The issue is triggered if a link (external or internal) on your site has an empty or naked anchor (i.e., just a URL), or anchor text only contains special characters. This issue makes it difficult for the crawlers to understand what the page is about and affects the performance of the linked-to page in search results. How to fix: Use anchor text for your links where it is necessary. The link text must give users and search engines at least a basic idea of what the target page is about. Also, use short but descriptive text. Learn more	1 0

Low word count

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:

This issue is triggered if the number of words on your webpage is less than 200. The amount of text placed on your webpage is a quality signal to search engines. Search engines prefer to provide as much information to users as possible, so pages with longer content tend to be placed higher in search results, as opposed to those with lower word counts. For more information, please view this video

How to fix:

Improve your on-page content and be sure to include more than 200 meaningful words.

Broken external links

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:

Broken external links lead users from one website to another and bring them to non-existent webpages. Multiple broken links negatively affect user experience and may worsen your search engine rankings because crawlers may think that your website is poorly maintained or coded.

Please note that our crawler may detect a working link as broken. Generally, this happens if the server hosting the website you're referring to blocks our crawler from accessing this website.

How to fix:

Please follow all links reported as broken. If a target webpage returns an error, remove the link leading to the error page or replace it with another resource.

If the links reported as broken do work when accessed with a browser, you should contact the website's owner and inform them about the issue.

No SNI support

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:
One of the common issues you may face when using HTTPS is when your web server doesn't support Server Name Indication (SNI). Using SNI allows you to support multiple servers and host multiple certificates at the same IP address, which may improve security and trust.

How to fix:
Make sure that you web server supports SNI. Keep in mind that SNI is not supported by some older browsers, which is why you need to ensure that your audience uses browsers supporting SNI.

Multiple h1 tags

Project name: scaleforgewebdev.vercel.app

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:

Although multiple <h1> tags are allowed in HTML5, we still do not recommend that you use more than one <h1> tag per page. Including multiple <h1> tags may confuse users.

How to fix:

Use multiple <h2>-<h6> tags instead of an <h1>.

Links with no anchor text

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:

The issue is triggered if a link (external or internal) on your site has an empty or naked anchor (i.e., just a URL), or anchor text only contains special characters. This issue makes it difficult for the crawlers to understand what the page is about and affects the performance of the linked-to page in search results.

How to fix:

Use anchor text for your links where it is necessary. The link text must give users and search engines at least a basic idea of what the target page is about. Also, use short but descriptive text. Learn more
